To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing this e-mail in regards to the Microsoft Anti-Trust Case. As an educator, I understand the necessity of "having a level playing field." If a student does not have equal access to education, then they will have to overcome incredible odds to achieve success. Microsoft has created an unfair advantage through the use of coercion, deceit and blatant libel. Other companies, such as Apple and Netscape have suffered nearly fatal losses as a consequence of such practices. It is my opinion that Microsoft should either A). pay reparations to all affected parties (which would be nearly impossible, as some entities no longer exist), B). be broken into smaller companies, with assets distributed, and/ or C). Make its products free to anyone for a period of time.

Thank you for refusing to be intimidated by their bullish tactics!
